Our customers who intend to purchase our products that ship to the above-named States will be charged sales tax at the appropriate tax rates unless we are in possession of a valid resale exemption certificate prior to invoicing the sale. Customers that are purchasing our products destined for those named States with the intent to resell those products should immediately send us a resale exemption certificate, which will allow us to not charge sales tax on those sales.

Some States also allow self-assessment of sales tax, and iSEE will accept the appropriate Self-Assessment Sales Tax Exemption form, if allowed. If you are uncertain about any of this, we would suggest you contact a competent tax expert. Please be aware that some States allow your home State resale exemption form, and others do not. We request that your company please review your particular situation and send to us any resale exemption certificates if our sales to your company are for resale in the locale where you are requesting us to ship your orders.

We continue to thank you for your purchase of iSEE products, and look forward to your future business.
